Forward Looking Statements

Any statements made in this presentation that are not statements of historical fact, including statements about our beliefs and expectations, are forward-looking statements and should be evaluated as such. Forward-looking statements include information concerning possible or assumed future results of operations, including descriptions of our business plan and strategies. Forward-looking statements are based on Vertex management's beliefs, as well as assumptions made by, and information currently available to, them. Because such statements are based on expectations as to future financial and operating results and are not statements of fact, actual results may differ materially from those projected. Factors which may cause actual results to differ materially from current expectations include, but are not limited to: our ability to attract new customers on a cost-effective basis and the extent to which existing customers renew and upgrade their subscriptions; our ability to sustain and expand revenues, maintain profitability, and to effectively manage our anticipated growth; our ability to maintain and expand our strategic relationships with third parties; and the other factors described under the heading "Risk Factors" in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2023 as filed with the Securities Exchange Commission ("SEC") and the Company's subsequent filings with the SEC. Copies of each filing may be obtained from the Company or the SEC. All forward-looking statements reflect our beliefs and assumptions only as of the date of this presentation. We undertake no obligation to update forward-looking statements to reflect future events or circumstances.

Definitions of Certain Key Business Metrics

Annual Recurring Revenue ("ARR") – We derive the vast majority of our revenues from recurring software subscriptions. We believe ARR provides us with visibility to our projected software subscription revenues in order to evaluate the health of our business. Because we recognize subscription revenues ratably, we believe investors can use ARR to measure our expansion of existing customer revenues, new customer activity, and as an indicator of future software subscription revenues. ARR is based on monthly recurring revenues ("MRR") from software subscriptions for the most recent month at period end, multiplied by twelve. MRR is calculated by dividing the software subscription price, inclusive of discounts, by the number of subscription covered months. MRR only includes customers with MRR at the end of the last month of the measurement period.

Net Revenue Retention Rate ("NRR") – We believe that our NRR provides insight into our ability to retain and grow revenues from our customers, as well as their potential long-term value to us. We also believe it demonstrates to investors our ability to expand existing customer revenues, which is one of our key growth strategies. Our NRR refers to the ARR expansion during the 12 months of a reporting period for all customers who were part of our customer base at the beginning of the reporting period. Our NRR calculation takes into account any revenues lost from departing customers or customers who have downgraded or reduced usage, as well as any revenue expansion from migrations, new licenses for additional products or contractual and usage-based price changes.

Use and Reconciliation of Non-GAAP Financial Measures

In addition to our results determined in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the U.S. ("GAAP"), we have calculated non-GAAP cost of revenues, non-GAAP gross profit, non-GAAP gross margin, non-GAAP research and development expense, non-GAAP selling and marketing expense, non-GAAP general and administrative expense, non-GAAP operating income, non-GAAP net income, non-GAAP diluted EPS, Adjusted EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA margin, free cash flow and free cash flow margin, which are each non-GAAP financial measures. We have provided tabular reconciliations of each of these non-GAAP financial measures used in this presentation to its most directly comparable GAAP financial measure.

Management uses these non-GAAP financial measures to understand and compare operating results across accounting periods, for internal budgeting and forecasting purposes, and to evaluate financial performance and liquidity. Our non-GAAP financial measures are presented as supplemental disclosure as we believe they provide useful information to investors and others in understanding and evaluating our results, prospects, and liquidity period-over-period without the impact of certain items that do not directly correlate to our operating performance and that may vary significantly from period to period for reasons unrelated to our operating performance, as well as comparing our financial results to those of other companies. Our definitions of these non-GAAP financial measures may differ from similarly titled measures presented by other companies and therefore comparability may be limited. In addition, other companies may not publish these or similar metrics. Thus, our non-GAAP financial measures should be considered in addition to, not as a substitute for, or in isolation from, the financial information prepared in accordance with GAAP financial measures, and should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2023 and in our other reports periodically filed with the SEC.

Market & Industry Data

Market data and industry information used throughout this presentation are based on management's knowledge of the industry and the good faith estimates of management. The Company also relied, to the extent available, upon management's review of independent industry surveys and publications and other publicly available information prepared by a number of third-party sources. All of the market data and industry information used in this presentation involves a number of assumptions and limitations, and you are cautioned not to give undue weight to such assumptions and resulting estimates. Although the Company believes that these sources are reliable, the Company cannot guarantee the accuracy or completeness of this information, and the Company has not independently verified this information. While the Company believes the estimated market position, market opportunity and market size information included in this presentation are generally reliable, such information, which is derived in part from management's estimates and beliefs, is inherently uncertain and imprecise. No representations or warranties are made by the Company, any of its affiliates or underwriters as to the accuracy of any such statements or projections. Projections, assumptions and estimates of the Company's future performance and the future performance of the industry in which the Company operates are necessarily subject to a high degree of uncertainty and risk due to a variety of factors, including those described above. These and other factors could cause results to differ materially from those expressed in the Company's estimates and beliefs and in the estimates prepared by independent parties.

Financial Highlights

1 Growth Acceleration at Scale

- Consistent mid to high teens revenue growth, with cloud revenue growth in the high 20 percent range.
- NRR improvement validates the ability to cross-sell and serve customers through proprietary, differentiated tax software, services and content database

2 Earnings Leverage

- Multi-year growth investment program largely completed in 2Q23, driving operating leverage throughout the business model
- Q1'24 Adj. EBITDA increased more than 80% vs Q1'23, reflecting ~800bps of margin expansion

3 Clear Growth Opportunities

- Secular tailwinds, including the increasingly complex tax regulatory landscape and broad digital transformation initiatives, validate the business model
- Enhanced long-standing partnerships with Oracle and SAP, and expanded into Microsoft, NetSuite, Salesforce and Workday ecosystems

Notes:

1. Adjusted EBITDA is a non-GAAP measure. For a reconciliation to the nearest GAAP measure, please see the Appendix.
2. Margins reflect respective financial figures as a percentage of total revenues in each respective period.

With Growth Investments Largely Complete, Earnings Leverage is Now Inflecting

- Beginning with the IPO in mid-2020, Vertex made significant growth investments in 3 key areas:
 - Go-to-market
 - New product introductions
 - Corporate infrastructure to support a larger company
- Those investments were largely complete in 2Q 2023 with the launch of a new ERP system.
- Earnings leverage from those investments is now evident in the company's financial results.
